

Polaris

Chorus

G C G
Each day a flower grows
D G
Use your time be wise
G D
Lost in living we forget
 C C G
Each day a flower dies

Verse

 G C G
Press ganged in service By a judge
 D G
To wars he couldn't win
 G D
For victory on battlefields
 C C G
Were no victory for him
 G C G
Home letters told of growing son
D G
Daughter of apple eye
 G D
So dusk time as Polaris rose
 C C G
He'd say unto the sky

Chorus

Her role as wife most dutiful for State and Country pride the gloss of status covering her sense of loss inside his letters shades of love and pain as all war is a lie
so dusk time as Polaris rose she'd say unto the sky

Chorus

A growing son, a daughter blooms
Nothing can stop the tide
'cept heart can keep a closeness when separation wide a human choice no need to ask imagined God on high
So dusk time as Polaris rose
They'd say unto the sky

Chorus

A churchyard gravestone tells the tale Of two destined to be Combined as one for evermore
Once apart by war and sea
Two roses twined upon the stone
Symbols of love indeed Under petals carved a heart and simple words that read

Chorus
